When did the Belt & Road Initiative start?

The vertical red line indicates the last day of September in 2013, which we take as the starting date for the Belt and Road Initiative. Fig. 2. (A) Cumulative power generation capacity and (B) total number of power plant projects involving Chinese contractors in the 15 representative BRI countries.

Will China expand the Belt & Road Initiative in 2025?

Chinese finance and investments into the Belt and Road Initiative countries in 2025 H1 have accelerated significantly. For 2025, a further expansion of BRI investments and construction contracts seems possible despite (or because of) global economic headwinds driven by US-led trade impositions.

Does the Belt & Road Initiative affect global climate?

The Belt and Road Initiative (BRI), initially proposed by China in Fall 2013, involves large-scale development of infrastructure, including energy infrastructure, in Asia, Europe, and Africa, and thus has the potential to affect global climate.

What is the Belt & Road Initiative (BRI)?

1. Introduction The Belt and Road Initiative (BRI), also known as the "One Belt, One Road" initiative, was introduced in September-October 2013 by China as a vision to promote connectivity and economic integration among, but not limited to, countries in Asia, Europe, and Africa.
